

Valery V. Kovalev
Saint Petersburg State University
Faculty of Economics
191123, Tchaikovskogo, 62
Saint Petersburg
Russia

17 February 2014

Dear Valery,

BA (Hons) Economics (all specialisations)

2013 - 2017 Graduation

Thank you for your recent application for CIMA accreditation.

We are pleased to confirm exemptions from the following CIMA papers for five graduation cohorts:

- C01: Fundamentals of Management Accounting
- C02: Fundamentals of Financial Accounting
- C03: Fundamentals of Business Mathematics
- C04: Fundamentals of Business Economics
- C05: Fundamentals of Ethics, Corporate Governance and Business Law

Student receiving exemptions from these papers are able to proceed to the operational level of the qualification. Kindly refer to Appendix 1 for the CIMA qualification framework.

We will monitor graduate performance in CIMA examinations and any other appropriate quality indicators during this period to assure ourselves of the appropriateness of the exemptions awarded and this information will be taken into account when re-accreditation is sought in five years time.

This decision will only be applied to students who have studied at the home campus. Any franchise arrangements now or in the future, are not covered by this decision and these would require a separate application.

Please bear in mind that any substantial changes to the modules content or assessment methods may also impact upon the exemptions awarded.

Details of the current accreditation can be found on our website at:

<http://www.cimaglobal.com/Study-with-us/Exemptions/Exemption-search/Saint-Petersburg-State-University/>

Syllabus update

The 2015 professional qualification syllabus was launched yesterday, and will first be examined in 2015. The CIMA syllabus is assessed and revised every five years to ensure it reflects the current business needs and so our members and students' skill set remains relevant to employer demand. The detailed syllabus will be available to view on our website after the launch. The changes to the syllabus are based on robust and comprehensive research with employers and academics in 13 countries and a global online question survey involving over 3,000 participants.

You can find more information on the 2015 syllabus in the link below:

<http://www.cimaglobal.com/Education-partners/2015-syllabus/>

I've attached a diagram of the 2015 syllabus in Appendix 2 for your information.

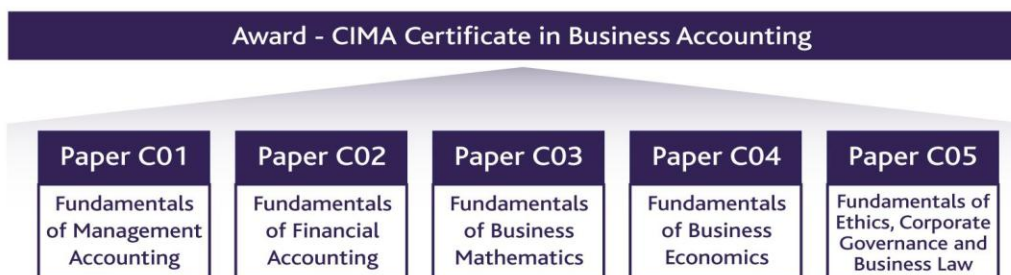

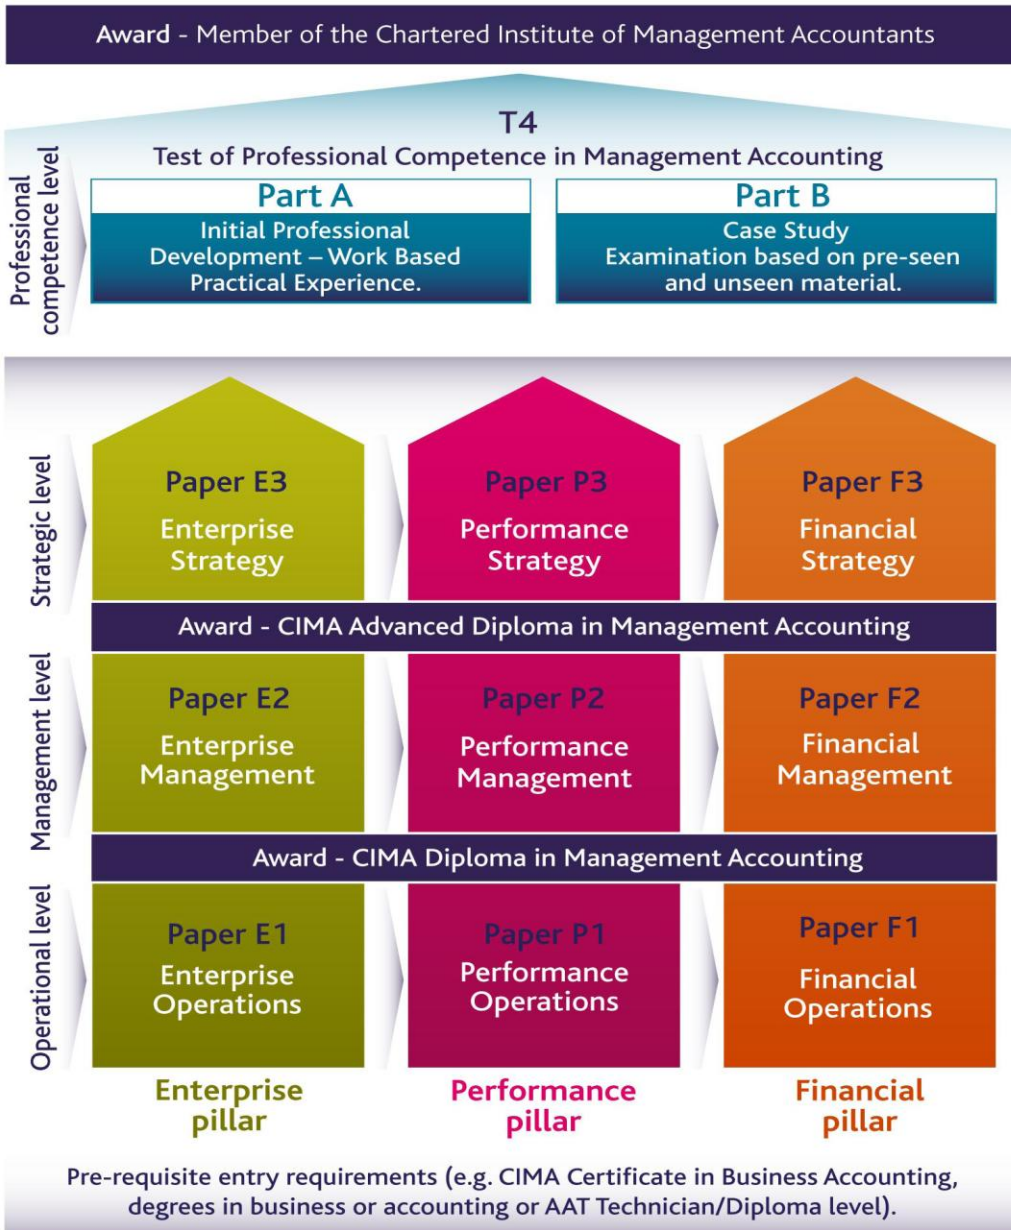

We look forward to seeing graduates from your university undertaking the CIMA qualification in the near future.

Yours sincerely

Simon Sherry

Higher Education Partnership Manager
Accreditation and Centres of Excellence
+44 (0)20 8849 2393

Appendix 1: The CIMA 2010 Qualification Framework

Appendix 2: The CIMA 2015 Qualification Framework

